THE CODE OF ETHICS

Members of the Crane Association of New Zealand (Inc) shall, as a condition of on-going membership;

1. Act with integrity, competence and in an ethical manner when dealing with the public, clients, prospective clients ('prospects') and fellow Members.
2. Practice and encourage others to practice in a professional and ethical manner that will reflect credit on the New Zealand Crane Industry and its participants.
3. Maintain knowledge of and comply with all applicable laws, rules and regulations (Including Crane Association's Code of Ethics) of any government, government agency, regulatory organization, licensing agency or professional associations governing the Member's professional activity.
4. Not knowingly participate in any violation of such laws, rules or regulations.
5. Membership of the Crane Association of New Zealand (INC) may be referenced by Members only in a dignified and judicious manner. The use of the reference may be accompanied by an accurate explanation of the role that Member has in Crane Association, the functions the Member is involved in as a result and the various activities undertaken by Crane Association.
6. Members may use the Crane Association letters and the Crane Association logotype and are encouraged to do so but only in a dignified and judicious manner. The use of the Crane Association initials and the logotype may be accompanied by an accurate explanation of the requirements which are a pre-requisite of membership.
7. Members shall not engage in any professional conduct involving dishonesty, deceit or misrepresentation or commit any act that reflects adversely on their or Crane Association's, honesty, trustworthiness or professional competence.
8. Exercise diligence and thoroughness in making recommendations and taking management actions.
9. Have a reasonable and adequate basis, supported by appropriate research and investigation, for such recommendations or actions. During this process Members must distinguish between fact and opinion.
10. Make reasonable and diligent efforts to avoid any material misrepresentation.
11. Maintain appropriate records to support the reasonableness of such decisions or actions.
12. Members shall use reasonable care and judgement to achieve and maintain independence and objectivity in making executive decisions or taking management actions.
13. Members shall deal fairly and objectively with all clients and prospects when making recommendations, disseminating material changes in prior recommendations or when taking any executive decisions.
14. Members shall preserve the confidentiality of information communicated to them by clients or prospects concerning matters within the scope of the client-member, prospective member relationship unless the member receives information concerning illegal activities on the part of the client or prospect.
15. Members shall not make any statements, orally or in writing, that misrepresent;
 - 15.1 the experience that they or their firm, has already gained.
 - 15.2 the performance that they, or their firm, has already achieved.
 - 15.3 the services that they or their firms are capable of performing
 - 15.4 the services that they or their firms are intending to perform
 - 15.5 the Member's or their firms, academic or professional qualifications
16. Members shall disclose to their clients and prospects all matters, Including beneficial ownership of securities or other investments, which reasonably could be expected to impair the Member's ability to make unbiased and objective recommendations and to take executive decisions.
17. Members shall disclose to clients and prospects any consideration or benefit received by the member or delivered to others for the recommendation of any services to the client or prospect.
18. Members shall not make any statements, orally or in writing, that misrepresent the performance that they or their firms have accomplished or can reasonably be expected to accomplish
